

Peek a Boo!

Peek a boo is a timeless game that has been played between adults and children forever. It is a game of interaction that happens naturally through play with babies and young children. Your baby is learning so much by playing this simple game with you. It touches on every Principle of E.L.E.C.T.

(Early Learning for Every Child Today}

Socially and Emotionally;

Your child is learning the give and take of simple turn taking. They are beginning to sense that their behavior can have an effect on others, smiling at each other, eye contact (looking away and back again), laughing.

Communication, Language and Literacy;

They are developing their non-verbal communication and expressive language skills through smiling, body language, signaling to each other and laughing.

Cognitive and Physical Development;

Cognitively and physically they are learning cause and effect through repeating their actions, imitating you as well as spatial exploration, object permanence and problem solving.

More importantly is the engagement and sense of belonging and bond they develop with you that is the basis for How Learning Happens!
